Dear Siân,

Re: Cross Hands Library Provision

I write to confirm that Carmarthenshire Library Services would like to be included as part of the Cross Hands Health & Wellbeing Centre, for community library purposes.

Mark Jewell, our Library Services Manager has confirmed that he has discussed further our outline design plans for the area, and that your project design architects are in the process of realigning the requirements of the library service within the main scheme. We anticipate that the sqm allocation may alter considerably in line with the revised scheme and await confirmation from your design team.

I can confirm that subject to acceptable terms and conditions negotiations, that it is our intention to enter into a lease agreement for the purpose of operating a community public library within the Cross Hands area.

Yours sincerely

Ian Jones

Dear Rhian,

Further to our email correspondence, please find confirmation that the OPCC are supportive of participation in the scheme aligned with the recent amended design drawing and details received.

Receipt of the final Capital Contribution and Service Charge required will allow OPCC/DPP to internally present a formal business case for the new proposed facility. This will allow a final decision to participate in the project to be confirmed.

If you have any queries relating to this proposed approach, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Yours sincerely,

Heddwyn Thomas

Dear Ms Matthews,

Proposed development at Cross Hands

Thank you for your letter dated 7th April setting out the position for the Cross Hands development and requesting a letter of support for the inclusion of the Early Years Centre as part of the development.

As you are aware the Local Authority in partnership with the Health Board have been developing an Early Years Integrated Team in the Cwm Gwendraeth area in order to transform the delivery of early years services, by means of better integration of the multi agency staff involved with families in the early years. This development will greatly support the transformation process from segregated services, delivered by specific professional groups, to an integrated service delivered by multi agencies as part of the community.

I can confirm that we have been actively involved in developing the plans for the Early Years Centre and are therefore in agreement with the plans at this stage within the Outline Business Case.

Myself and Tina Taylor will continue to be the lead contacts to liaise with in terms of future planning and discussions in respect of capital and revenue costs.

Diolch Yn Fawr

Regards

Noeline Thomas
